The home exudes curb appeal due in part to its covered front porch and solid Mahogany double door entry which merely sets the tone for the remainder of your tour. As you enter the house, you will find a den or office to your right, and to the left, the living room opens to the dining room and kitchen. The living room has a stacked stone gas fireplace, while the dining room has the original butler's pantry which has been updated with Soho antique glass tile - a great centerpiece for the space. The kitchen is light and bright with London Grey Ceasarstone Quartz countertops, subway tile backsplash, a center island with under-counter microwave, Dacor gas range wit...
